AGUA DE MAGNOLIA.—The prettiest thing, the "sweetest thing," and the most of it for the least money. It overcomes the odor of perspiration; softens and adds delicacy to the skin; is a delightful perfume; allays headache and inflammation, and is a necessary companion in the sick room, in the nursery, and upon the toilet sideboard. It can be obtained everywhere at one dollar per bottle.

S. T.—1860.—X.—The amount of Plantation Bitters sold in one year is something startling. They would fill Broadway six feet high, from the Park to 4th street.—Drake's manufactory is one of the institutions of N. York. It is said that Drake painted all the rocks in the eastern States with his cabalistic "S.T.—1860.—X," and then got the old granny legislators to pass a law "preventing disfiguring the face of nature," which gives him a monopoly. We do not know how this is, but we do know the Plantation Bitters sell as no other article ever did. They are used by all classes of the community, and are death on Dyspepsia—certain. They are very invigorating when languid and weak, and a great appetiser.

WHAT DID IT?—A young lady, returning to her country home after a sojourn of a few months in New York, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a rustic, flushed face, she had a soft, ruby complexion, of almost marble smoothness; and instead of 22, she really appeared but 17. She told them plainly she used Hagan's Magnolia Balm, and would not be without it. Any lady can improve her personal appearance very much by using this article. It can be ordered of any Druggist for only 50 cents.

HUMBLE LIFE.

Tell me not that he's a poor man,
That his dress is coarse and bare;
Tell me not his daily pittance
Is a workman's scanty fare.
Tell me not his birth is humble,
That his parentage is low;
Is he honest in his actions?
That is all I want to know.

Is his word to be relied on?
Has his character no blame?
T[illegible]'s low born—
Then I care not whence his name.
Would he from an unjust action
Turn away with scornful eye?
Would he, then, defraud another?
Sooner on the scaffold die.

Would he spend his hard-gained earnings
On a brother in distress?
Would he succor the afflicted
And the weak one's wrongs redress?
Then he is a man deserving
Of my love and my esteem,
And I care not what his birth-place
In the eyes of man may seem.

Let it be a low thatched hovel—
Let it be a clay-built cot—
Let it be the parish work-house—
In my eye it matters not.
And if others will disown him,
As inferior to their caste,
Let them do it—I'll befriend him
As a brother to the last.

The Power of Memory.

Some remarkable instances of the power of memory have been recorded, which prove that the faculty can be cultivated to almost any degree. A man called on the Greffier Fagel to display his powers, and said he would perform any feat of memory that might be given to him. He was requested to read through a newspaper and then repeat it word for word. He did so, and did not omit a single word from beginning to end. The listener expressed his astonishment, when the man said, "Oh, that is but little, for now I shall repeat the same backwards." "It cannot be done," said the Greffier. "It only waits your patient hearing." He then begun, and without the least hesitation repeated every separate article, beginning at the end and ending at the title.

Wm. Lyon, a strolling player of Edinburg, had a remarkable memory. He made the promise one evening that he would the next day repeat the Daily Advertiser from beginning to end. This he did the next morning, without a mistake, going through all the advertisements, accidents, price of stocks, law intelligence, &c.

These instances prove to what degree the memory can be cultivated; and there is no better way to improve a memory that is deficient, than by commencing to learn to repeat poetry and prose daily. It gives one also great control of language. One of the best talkers of the present day declared that he owed his ability to express his ideas in good language, to his determination to commit a great part of Shakespeare's plays to memory. He found that he gained a wonderful control of language by so doing. Try it, young people who wish to be good lawyers, good writers and talkers.

Little Words and Actions.

Rev. T. L. Cuyler thus closes a recent article in the Independent, entitled "Sunshine in Hearts and Home:

"We must, before closing, say a word about the sunshine that is cast over our own homes by little words and actions. Some men—some honest, godly men—so neglect the little amenities of life that their presence affects us like a March wind. They forget that religion ought to regulate those little things that make up so much of the brightness or the shadow of daily existence. I know of men whose entrance into their own dwelling casts a painful restraint over their household; and they are not vicious or brutal men either. But they have no sunshine about them. They have no sympathy with the troubles, and no ready attentiveness to promote the enjoyment of those they meet. Their children are shy of them. They give their money to send the Gospel to gladden far-away India and China; but they never bring any to their own homes.

"Good friend! begin to sympathize with your own family before you expend so much upon the heathen. As my dear friend, Dr. James W. Alexander, used to say, 'Begin at home, and work outward.' If you do not love your own wife, do not pretend to so much love for the people on the other side of the globe.' Don't let so much worry and irritation drizzle like a Scotch mist into your own family circle. It is good to give money to support a missionary to China or Turkey; but pray begin to support at least one missionary of Gospel love and daily kindness in your own shoes, and under your own hat! Keep your heart in the love of God and of your fellowmen; and then let the blessed sunlight fall on every human being that you meet."

☞A Western paper states that in a passenger train for Chicago, from the East, a young father and mother were traveling with a sick and weary child. There were also in the same car half-a-dozen coarse fellows, who, with their noise, kept the child awake and crying. At last one became tired of the little one's wailing, and exclaimed: "Seems to me that young one is making too much noise; won't somebody nurse it?" The color flushed over the pale face of the mother as she cuttingly replied: "If nursing will stop that man's noise, somebody had better nurse him." The man sank into his coat collar, and that was the last of him. His companions, who greeted the retort of the mother with a cheer, were also silenced for the remainder of the journey.

Blind Husbands.

We once heard of an elopement of a woman—who had a blind husband and three children—with a young man who had boarded in her house. The incident reminds us of how many blind husbands there are in the world, mentally blind—whose blindness is the cause of infidelity of their wives. Husbands there are, alas! too plenty, who are blind to their duties toward their wives, and equally blind to what duties their vives properly owe them. Is makes little difference, in respect to the result, whether they are blindly tyrannical or blindly indulgent—their conduct either encourages disrespect or hatred, and away go their disloyal partners with some new lovers who have taken advantage of their husband's blindness.

No doubt the poor blind husband in this case owes his bereavement of his wife to his bereavement of sight. Had he had eyesight, those faithful orbs would have been sentinels to guard his honor and intimidate the aggressor—and jealous husbands, who are indignant at the wrong committed upon them, thank Heaven they have eye with which to defend themselves.

But this physical blindness is no greater a calamity than the mental darkness under which many husbands labor and still think they see! Poor fools! You have eyes and yet see not. You see not that there is such a thing as incompatability of dispositions between you and your wives. You do not see that even if your natures are congenial, they can only be kept faithful by congenial habits and those endearing attentions without which the palled heart of your partner must lose its habits of clinging to you alone, and without which the marriage tie is likely to become as insubstantial as "an airy nothing" or a rope of sand.

You are blind, perhaps, in the opposite extreme of the question, and if your wives are of a flighty nature and over fond of new faces, you may be still unwise enough to let over-indulgence allure them to their ruin or your own. And so, blind husbands all! you lose the idols of your hearts either by forcing them rudely from their pedestal, or by neglecting all care for the statues, permitting them to totter, and thus, in either case, they fall and are shattered to pieces.

Many a man has read with a smile, or a feeling of indifference, some account of an elopement, and the next day became himself the astounded victim of another like perfidy. He saw the rock on which others had split, and felt satisfied that his own eyes were open—again to fell that he opened them too late—and too much light now pays the penalty of his having been too much in the dark.

We advise all persons who love their partners—men and women—to see to it that they are not blind too long. Let them consult those great matrimonial oculists, wisdom and morality, which tend to perpetuate, deserve and engage love; these will prevent them from neglecting those duties and attentions, whose performance lightens and gilds life's fetters, and removes that mental blindness which makes their mortal and immortal interests unseen or lost.

Praying for a Husband.

A young lady in Norristown heard that if she would go out and pray three consecutive nights, the Lord would tell her who she would marry. Now it happened that her father had a young man in his employ who had considerable wit and good humor about him. One evening he was out in an apple tree after fruit, when he heard some one praying something like this: "O, Lord, who will I marry?" The idea popped into Doyle's (that being the young man's name) that he would have a little sport at her expense. So he spoke in a changed voice, and said "Doyle." "No, Lord, not Doyle" cried the astonished young lady. "Yes, Doyle, or no one," again souded from the tree top in a sober, hollow voice. She arose and entered the house, resolved to try again the next evening. Of course Doyle did wish to spoil the fun, and so the next evening found him seated in the tree top. He did not have long to wait before the young husband seeker came and commeced praying in the same way that she did the preceding evening, and received the same answer. The next evening also found her under the tree pleading to know her future husband's name, and again she heard the answer, "Doyle, or no one." She arose, feeling satisfied that she must marry Doyle. The next morning she met him and asked him why he did not put on better clothes. He said that he was not able. "Well," said she, "father is rich, and he will let you have money." He took that for a pretty good hint, and bought a new suit of clothes. In a short time he offered his heart and hand, and was accepted. After their marriage he told her how her prayers were answered. If any of the fair readers of this story should think of praying for a husband do not get under a tree, or if you do, be sure to examine it closely and see if there is any one to answer it.

☞We had assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to a worthy man who had not, while alive, come up to the popular notion of being the head of the family. Sympathizing lady friends were assisting the "afflicted relict" to put on her mourning habiliments, one of whom produced a nicely starched, splendidly trimmed cotton lace cap. The bereaved one spied it instantly. "Not that cap! not that one!" she authoritatively exclaimed. "I s'pose I'll have to cry some, and make a fuss at the funeral, and I might muss it. Give me an old one!"

The Victims of Intemperance.

AN AFFECTING SCENE.

It was on a winter's night that a carriage, containing two ladies and a coachman, rolled heavily over the snow. The travelers had arrived in the late train, and were endeavoring to reach their home, which was a country seat, six miles from the city which they had just left. It was now midnight. The road was narrow and lonely, guarded on either side by thick woods. The moon shed her radiance over the landscape.

As the carriage came within a short distance of home, it suddenly stopped; for in the middle of the road stood a horse and wagon, which impeded its further progress. The coachmen alighted, and looked about him. As he was nearing the offensive wagon, he stumbled over a something, which—God forgive her—was a woman. She lay stretched out upon the ground, in an almost nude condition, with her arms thrown widely above her head. The man shook her, but could elicit nothing from her but a few unintelligible groans. By the light of the moon he then perceived a bundle lying over opposite, which bundle proved to be an Irishman, who lived in a small hut far up the road. By a great effort of strength the coachman lifted the woman in his arms, and placed her in the wagon. After many drunken protestations from the Irishman, the latter was prevailed upon to arise and take hold of the back of the wagon, thus steadying himself and also pushing the vehicle. The coachman then led the poor, patient beast, and the carriage followed slowly behind, the elder lady having taken the reins. Although the ladies were much horror-stricken at what they beheld, they felt that it was a time to consult their nobler feelings. Had they humored their inclination to dash forward and leave the poor creatures to their fate, the latter would in all probability have been frozen before morning. The little hovel was soon reached. As the sound of wheels fell on the ears of the inmates, the door opened, and a tiny voice cried eagerly and joyously, "Oh, have you got home!" And there was heard the scampering of little feet, and the hum of little voices. The coachman lifted the drunken mother, carried her in, and deposited her on the bed. The drunken father, partially sobered by his walk, staggered in after, and sank upon the nearest chair. The eldest girl, who could not have been more than ten years old, at once recognized the true state of affairs, and burst into tears. The six smaller children were evidently half asleep and much bewildered. They stood in one corner of the room, in a frightened group. Suddenly one little fellow, who was in his night gown, and had rushed in all eagerness to welcome his parents, sprang upon the bed where his mother lay, and putting his downy cheek against hers, patted her hand caressingly, and implored her to speak to him. Her lips formed but a drunken oath in reply, and raising her hand she pushed him from the bed. He was caught in the arms of the coachman, who stood near, wiping from his sympathetic eyes the tears that would come. The boy, who was unhurt, began to cry in a terrible way, in which pitiful solo the whole chorus of children joined. The elder girl at last recovered herself, thanked the kind coachman, and explained to him that this used to be a common occurrence but that of late her parents had signed the pledge, and had until now abstained from intoxicating liquor. Here her feelings again overcame her, and she turned away in an uncontrolable flood of tears.

All this time the father was laughing tipsily to himself, and was making hideous faces at the shuddering children. This, which it has taken me so long to relate, transpired in a few moments. The coachman opened the door to depart, when the mother of those seven forlorn little objects muttered something about bed-time. Seeing that she was now partly awake, the coachman informed her that she ought to be ashamed of herself for being in such a horrible condition. She nodded stupidly, and he left in despair, and drove his ladies home as quickly as possible.

What happened afterward in that miserable hut is unknown to me; but as I sat thinking about the story, after it was told to me, a party of young men passed under my window. They were singing hilariously, because they were sufficiently intoxicated to be in the best spirits. Out of drunken tones of gayety, mingled with loud laughs of derision, there arose the following words:

"I want to be an angel,
And with the angels stand;
A crown upon my forehead,
A harp within my hand."

There may have been a time when they sang it reverently, perhaps at a mother's knee; but now it was yelled forth with a fiendish frenzy, the tune being scarcely distinguishable, as each one sang in a different key, and improvariations of his own. As it was not quite dark, I could easily distinguish among the party one or two faces of those who belong to the "best families," and who say that they are in the "first society."

Ah, thought I, can it be that the rich and the poor have something so closely in common? The same temptation allures both, and both fall a victim to its snares. Surely that which can so reduce a mother to indecency, and can make night hideous with the revelry of young men who call themselves respectable, is something possessed with ten thousand devils—the invention of a fiend!—Independent.

Thoughts for the Farmer.

Thinning Fruit.

An article in the Jouinal of Horticulture has the following very judicious remarks on the propriety of thinning fruit: The flavor of fruit, barring extreme sunless seasons, is entirely under the control of the gardener. A clever man can command flavor; a dull man, when he finds his fruit flavorless, makes idle excuses, which should never be listened to. If a tree trained to a wall be allowed to ripen, say the ten dozen of fruit, when five or six dozen only should have been left, they, although they may be of a fair size and color, suffer in flavor to an extent scarcely credible. How often has the gardener had occasion to complain of his pears not being good, although produced on fine trees trained against walls? He complains of the season; but it is in most cases owing to the trees being allowed to bear just double the number they ought to have done. The following ought to be inscribed on every wall, and in every fruit and orchard house:—By thinning, you make indifferent fruit good. By crowding you make good fruit bad. If very fine and high flavored fruit is wished for, a tree capable of bearing three dozen of medium sized peaches should be allowed to bear twelve or fifteen. This thinning is terrible work for the amateur. It is like drawing a tooth, and every fruit that falls to the ground creates a pang; but it must be done. A small sharp pen knife is the best instrument to employ and is much better than tearing off the fruit with the finger and thumb. A well-formed peach or nectarine tree, be it bush or pyramid, with its fruit properly thinned and nearly ripe, is one of the most beautiful articles the skill of the cultivator can produce.

Let any one who is raising fruit try the experiment this season, by thinning the fruit on a single tree of apples, peaches, pears, plums, &c., where the fruit is too abundant, and he will next year treat all his trees in the same way.

How Dogs Kill Sheep.

The March report of the Commissioner of Agriculture dwells upon the ravages committed by dogs among the sheep in the United States. In 1866, five hundred thousand sheep were killed by dogs, and their value was $2,000,000. The Commissioner says:

"The cost of keeping dogs, most of them utterly worthless, when calculated for the whole country, assumes startling proportions. The estimate made in the report of 1863, of ten dollars per annum, or less than one cent per meal, cannot be considered extravagant, in view of price paid for boarding dogs, the cost of keeping large numbers of them in cities, and their exclusive consumption of meat. As to their numbers, it is believed by many that they will average one to each family, or seven millions in the United States. In cities and towns that average would not be reached, while many a pack of hounds and assemblage of curs of low degree might be found in the ownership of a single families. Possibly seven millions may be too large. Ohio, with half a million families, is supposed by many to have half a million dogs, although little more than one third of that number are found on the assessors' books. It may be assumed, in view of all the data obtained, as a low estimate, that there are five millions of dogs in the United States, and that their subsistence involves an expenditure of fifty millions of dollars."

The Rural Gentleman says: "If sheep are kept in the same lot with cows or fat cattle, no dog will disturb them. As soon as the dogs approach the sheep, they will run to the cattle, who drive off the dogs. A farmer of thirty years, in Shelby county, adopting this plan, never lost a sheep by dogs, although in the same night the same dogs killed sheep on the farms North and South of him."

Gapes in Chickens.

There is no doubt but the gapes comes from little worms, the larvæ of some fly or other insect, which are found in considerable numbers in the throats of the chickens and cause their death. These flies or insects no doubt abound about foul houses and yards, so that keeping the chickens in places where fowls do not frequent, and where they have not before been kept, goes far toward protecting them from the evil. A correspondent writes as follows: "A year ago I communicated to the Agriculturist a certain mode of treating chickens, to prevent gapes. Since that time I have seen various modes stated to cure the ailment. Now, Mr. Editor, I insist upon it that 'an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure.' There is no need of having gapes at all. Last year I raised nearly one hundred chickens, and had not a sign of gapes among them. My method is as follows: When the chickens are in condition to take from the nest, I put them with the hen in a coop with a board bottom, so as to keep the young ones from the cold and damp ground. They are fed with Indian meal on which boiling water is poured from the teakettle, well stirred and allowed to cool. I believe the whole secret is to keep the chickens dry and warm when quite young, and give them cooked food.—American Agriculturist.

Wit, Humor and Wisdom.

WHO is the laziest man? The furniture dealer—he keeps chairs and lounges about all the time.

THE latest 'love of a bonnet' out, is said to be very pretty; it is made of a glass bead and a white horse hair.

A bashful musician, upon being requested to play a tune on his cornet, turned red and white and blew.

"AND ye have taken the tetotal pledge, have ye?" said somebody to an Irishman.

"Indade I have, and am not ashamed of it aither."

"And did not Paul tell Timothy to take a little wine for his stomach's sake?" "Sure he did, but my name is not Timothy and there's nothing the matter with my stomach."

ONCE in a church a young man who carried the collection plate, before starting to collect, put his hand in his pocket and deposited his contribution on the plate; and then passed it around among the congregation, which numbered many young and pretty girls. The girls, as they looked at the plate, all seemed astonished and amused, and the young man taking a glance at the plate, found that instead of a shilling, he had put a conversation lozenger on the plate, with the words 'Will you marry me?' in red letters, staring everybody in the face. None of the young ladies, however, closed in with the offer.

A WOMAN says what she pleases without being knocked down for it. She can take a snooze after dinner, while her husband goes to work. She can go into the street without being asked to stand 'treat' at every saloon. She can stay at home in time of war, and get married again if her husband gets killed. She can wear corsets if too thick, and other fixins if too thin. She can get divorced from her husband whenever she sees one she likes better. She can get her husband in debt all over until he warns the public not to trust her on his account. But all these advantages are balanced by the great fact that she cannot sing bass, go sparking, or climb a tree with any degree of propriety.

A GOOD joke is related of a couple of the West Virginia Legislators, which is worth relating. In conversation one day on the subject of the Lord's Prayer, one offered to bet the other five dollars that he did not know it. The bet was accepted, and, by agreement, the Legislator was to repeat it. He commenced as follows:

'Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep,
If I should die before I wake,
I pray the Lord my soul to take.'

'Well, I declare,' exclaimed the astonished Legislator, 'you have won the bet, but I'll be hanged if I thought you knew it,' and forthwith handed over the five dollars, to the great amusement of a number of gentlemen present.

THERE was a knot of sea-captains in a store of Honolulu, the keeper of which had just bought a barrel of black pepper. Old Captain ——, of Salem, came in, and seeing the pepper took up a handful of it.

'What do you buy such stuff as that for?' said he to the storekeeper 'it's half peas.'

'Peas!' replied the storekeeper; 'there isn't a pea in it.'

Taking up a handful as he spoke, he appealed to the company. They all looked at it, and plunged their hands into the barrel, and bit a kernel or so, and then gave it as their universal opinion, that there wasn't a pea in it.

'I tell you there is,' said the old captain, again scooping up a handful; 'and I'll bet a dollar on it."

The old Boston argument all over the world. They took him up.

'Well,' said he, 'spell that,' pointing to the word 'P-e-p-p-e-r,' painted on the side of the barrel. 'If it isn't half p's then I'm no judge, that's all.'

The bet was paid.

DEACON A. while passing through his lot the other day, stooped down to tie his shoe. A pet ram, which the boys had tamed, among other things was taught to regard this position as extremely offensive. He instantly pitched into the old gentleman's rear and laid him full length in a mud hole. Picking himself up, the deacon discovered the cause of his overthrow, standing in all the calmness and dignity of a conscious victor. His rage was boundless, and he saluted him with the energetic language:

'You d—d old rascal!'

At that moment he caught a glimpse of the benign face of the minister peeping through the fence, he instantly added: 'If I may be allowed the expression."

THE boarders in a fashionable house were assembled in the parlor one evening, when a rather antiquated maiden lady, who never seemed to have any employment but admiring her jewelry and dresses, lisped out the remark that she loved a rainy day, and always availed herself of it to arrange her drawers.

'So do I,' growled out an old sea captain. 'I overhaul my drawers and shirts too, sometimes, and sew on a button or a string where it is needed.'

Mademoiselle did not faint; but there was an angry rustle of silks as she swept out of the room, leaving all to exchange a suppressed titter for a good, hearty laugh.

A LADY who was married on Friday, when asked why she consummated such important business on such an unlucky day, responded that she had been married on every other day in the week, and had always made such a poor fist of it, that she concluded to test the hangman's day, hoping the halter wouldn't slip this time.

The Globe.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, June 19, 1867.

WM. LEWIS, HUGH LINDSAY, } EDITORS.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag, the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL ASSAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

☞At the Republican meeting in Trenton, N. J., last week, Mr. Ware, a Philadelphia negro, pithily said: "Radicalism is this; if you don't give it what it asks, it will take more."

THE CROPS.—The prospect for large crops of wheat and rye never was better. Our exchanges from every direction speak most favorably. The fall of grain and flour is the best evidence of a rich harvest.

☞The Boston city fathers have extended the hospitalities of the city to President Johnson on the occasion of his visit there to participate in the Masonic ceremonies, which rather conflicts with the conclusion reached by the Impeachment Committee of the House of Representatives, that he is "unworthy of confidence or respect of the American people." It is of no consequence, however. If the Boston authorities did only want to show respect for the office, there are those of the citizens who will show respect for the man, that's certain.

☞The entertainment given by the Tycoon of Japan, at Osaca, to the representatives of foreign countries, is an event of no ordinary interest. It was in the interest of Civilization, Commerce, Progress. The crust has been fairly broken and a new era inaugurated. The United States, which stand first in the regards of our Oriental friends, have the deepest interest in the relations which in such a remarkable manner have been established with them; and the fact that the Tycoon, on the occasion referred to, drank "the health of the President of the United States," proves that the feeling of reciprocity already exists.—The future in that direction is full of interest to the world—more especially to ourselves.

THERE is a class of advertisements which, while pretending to compassionate the follies and indiscretions of youth and to provide remedies for the diseases occasioned by them, are really calculated to encourage the vicious and even perhaps to reduce the virtuous and unsuspecting into the practice of the most pernicious vices. This class of advertisements should be regarded as highly injurious to public morals, offering, as they virtually do, immunity to licentious habits which both corrupt society and entail disease, infamy and death on many individuals. Respectable journals should reject them from their columns altogether. It is both an insult and a danger, to thrust daily or weekly before the virtuous sons and daughters of a family, lists of all the loathsome diseases that vice produces, each accompanied with its infallible cure and often with the advertiser's assurance that it is a preventative as well as cure. The readers of the GLOBE find no such advertisements in its columns, many dollars worth of such advertising has been declined at this office. Self-respect, as well as respect for our readers, and regard for good morals, make us willing to forego pecuniary profits from such a business.

CONFISCATION.—The Radical leaders are still preaching confiscation of the Southern property. Wendell Phillips, in a recent article in the Anti-slavery Standard, urges that the lands be divided with the negroes. Of course, the more temperate men in the Republican party refuse to listen to such preaching, as they cannot see how a permanent peace is to be accomplished by depriving such a large mass of the Southern people from the lands from which they derive their sustenance. Rather than peace another war would be inevitable if we should determine to degrade and pauperize them as many hot-headed men suggest. It would take but little to rekindle the rebellion in the South, and once again renewed the spirit of the Spartan would characterize the Southern "chivalry." Each and all of us hope for a speedy termination of the bickerings that have existed—already too long since the close of the rebellion; but what is to be accomplished when one part of the Northern people practice forbearance and the other preach confiscation? Let one or the other be tried; but by all means let it be the former more universally. A foe is humbled by kindness and exasperated by malice.

☞Mr. Davis has recovered the faculty of speech. In response to a serenade at Niagara, he said:

GENTLEMEN—I thank you sincerely for the honor you have this evening shown to me; it shows that true British manhood to which misfortune is always attractive. May peace and prosperity be forever the blessing of Canada, for she has been the asylum for many of my friends, as she is now an asylum to myself. I hope that Cannada may forever remain a part of the British Empire, and may God bless you all, and the British flag never cease to wave over you.

OFFICIAL CORRUPTION.—The Mackaneek Press, (Radical,) says:

"We never could make out what the late and lamented Mr. Lincoln wanted with a detective system at all. From the hour of his first inauguration up to that of his death, the thieves were all in office. Excepting Messrs. Chase, Stanton and Holt, it was impossible almost to lay hands on an official and not touch a man made rich through his position. This was especially the case with the moneyed offices. Honest men stood aghast at the impunity with which stealing went on. All cries of shame and outrage seemed unavailing. All opposition was thrown away. Thieves were turned out to be succeeded by thieves, and collossal fortunes were made in an hour. The amiable old President cracked jokes over the rascality, and said that in his appointments he had to run his hand into a sack of fifty snakes to find one eel. Among the latter acts of Congress that preceded his death was an investigation of the cotton frauds, and out of a great number of permits to steal, three-fourths were signed by the President.

We know that any quantity of timid men will remonstrate at this, as likely to injure our party. We think differently, and firmly believe that the only hope we have to hold our government in the hands of loyal men, is to expose the rascality and drive out the thieves. To remain silent is to connive at the frauds and protect the rogues."

☞The St. Louis Republican—Democratic—thinks it sees signs of the "day ob jubilee." That all our readers may know what so rejoices the Republican, we quote the article in its issue of the 6th, under the above head:

"We welcome all signs of returning peace and good will among fellow countrymen whom the late war estranged and made enemies. We wish we could see on a large scale a scene that met our eye at the Southern Hotel a few days ago, where a number of gentlemen, who were at one time engaged in the contest now happily over, either as staunch Union men or rebels or rebel sympathizers, had met together and were over their glasses enjoying each other's company like life long friends. It was particularly observable that ex-Secretary Cameron seemed much to relish the good jokes and lively rattle of that jovial ex rebel, M. Jeff. Thompson. This is a change since the time when the ex-Secretary was ordering rebel bridges to be burnt in Tennessee and the ex-General was burning Union ones in Missouri. But we trust such changes will be frequent and that while—on the question of 'letting by-gones be by-gones'—Senator Cameron will be as catholic in the Senate as he is out of it, he will find many imitators in Congress.

THE TRIBUNE ON ORGANS.—The Tribune in an article on "Parties—Sects—Journals—Organs," gives expression to its views on the latter as follows:

Little great men raised to important stations find organs convenient and their utterances soothing and satisfactory; but that is all. In the long run, organs are more likely to mislead them or to prejudice their policy than to render them any substantial service. In our judgment, an administration which should resolve at the outset to have nothing like an organ, and sternly adhere to that resolve, would improve its chances of abiding success.

And it is much the same with a great party. The ability of a journal to help it depends on its preserving a substantial independence. When the public comes to know that a journalist will always do and say just what his party is prepared to approve—that he is a mere servitor of the party—"not Mr. Buchanan, but a platform"—his support is taken as a matter of course, and carries with it no moral weight. "The ox knoweth his master," is the popular comment on his most fervid and zealous commendations of his party's principles, measures, or candidates.

Attorney General Stanberry's Opinion.

The Cabinet on the 15th held its first meeting since the President's return, and the important question so freely canvassed of late relating to the power of military commanders under the reconstruction law to remove State and municipal officials of State governments, denominated by the act of Congress as provisional, was among the matters which were discussed. It is understood that the Attorney General holds such removals can only be made when the State or local officials are impending the enforcement of the reconstruction law, and only then in the way provided by said act. They must first be arrested on that charge and tried in the manner provided in the law. If convicted and sentenced, the office which they filled of course becomes vacant. In other words, it is claimed that Military Commanders have no more power over these officials than they have over any other person in the Military District which they command, and that they must all be proceeded against in the same way whenever they are charged with hindering the enforcement of the law. As the logical sequence it is further maintained that these commanders have no legal power under the reconstruction act to fill any vacancy in State or municipal office, created in that way, any more than they have to fill a vacancy on the bench occasioned by the death of a Judge holding his office under any of these State governments. These were the points made by the Attorney General and other members of the Cabinet, but no final conclusion was arrived at. If this view be adopted by the President, it is believed that he will restore Governor Wells to his place, and reinstate the displaced Mobile officials, though the Southern men here asking for such action fear that it will not take place until after the time for the summer session of Congress is passed.

MAXIMILIAN TO BE BANISHED.

The Siege of the City of Mexico.

NEW YORK, June 15.—The Herald's New Orleans telegram says: A letter from Queretaro, published in Matamoras on the 3d inst., says: The Government will banish Maximilian and the principal chiefs, reserving the infliction of extreme penalties on those whose crimes demand it.

The latest news from the capital was that Marquez attempted to come out, but was driven back by Diaz.

The Democratic Nominee for Supreme Judge.

The State Convention of the Democratic party met at Harrisburg on Tuesday last, and nominated for their candidate for the Supreme Court, Hon. George Sharswood of Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph, Republican in politics, of Monday previous, speaking of Judge Sharswood, said:

"It is idle and unjust to deny to a really honorable man the merit which is his due. We do not desire to underrate Judge Sharswood. On the contrary, we will give him all the praise he can desire. He is a lawyer of ripe experience, an author of high legal repute, and, undoubtedly a Christian gentleman. It is well for the Republican party to be alive to his merits, as they will convince it that, in order to defeat such a candidate, a most excellent selection must be made by us. The only effect of the choice of the Democracy should be to nerve us to the selection of our very best man. We have already referred to the absolute necessity of discarding local influences. It is time that the folly of giving a nomination to the west or east of the State be abandoned. We must take the purest, the ablest, and the best candidate available. We do not favor any particular gentleman. Provided the candidate possesses the requisites of success, he will have our earnest support. We earnestly urge on our delegates to be careful in their choice.

Two-thirds of the battle is fought when the nominee is announced. Half the responsibility of the campaign rests on the delegates who meet at Williamsport. If a good standard-bearer is selected, one whose record is clear, we can make a vigorous fight and win. If an inferior candidate be put up, Judge Sharswood will be elected. It must be remembered—and we call attention to the fact to nerve our voters to renewed exertions—that the majority in the State is extremely small. A change of ten thousand votes would lose us Pennsylvania, so that every exertion is needed. We must be as wise as the serpent, and the first display of wisdom must be in the proper selection of a candidate for the Justice-ship of the Commonwealth."

We are pleased that the Democratic party have put in nomination so good a man. The Republicans must put in nomination a man equally as good or they might as well make no contest. We hope the nominations of both parties for the Legislature and all other offices may be men of the same high character.

The following are the platform resolutions adopted by the Convention:

We, the delegates of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania in general State Convention assembled, for the nomination of a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, profoundly grateful to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the return of peace to our beloved country, but deeply anxious on account of the trials and delays which impede the complete restoration and reunion of all the States, and appreciating the dangers which still threaten the safety of our political institutions, and the future peace, liberty and prosperity of the people, resolve,

1. That we steadfastly adhere to the principles of civil government established by the founders of the Union; and in the present conflict of legislative usurpation with constitutional law, we esteem a wise, upright and fearless judiciary the great bulwark of public liberty and individual right.

2. That the Union of the States is perpetual, and the Federal Government supreme within its constitutional limits.

3. That Representation in the Congress of the United States, and in the electoral college, is a right fundamental and indestructible in its nature and abiding in every State, being a duty as well as a right pertaining to the people of every State and essential to our Republican system of Government. Its denial is the destruction of the Government itself.

4. Each State having under the Constitution the exclusive right to prescribe the qualifications of its own electors, we proclaim as a usurpation and an outrage the establishment of negro suffrage in any of the States by the coercive exercise of Federal power; and we shall resist to the last resort the threatened measures of the leaders of the Republican party to interfere by acts of Congress with the regulation of the elective franchise in the State of Pennsylvania.

5. That we are opposed to any amendment of the Constitution of the State giving to negroes the right of suffrage.

6. That the failure of the Tariff Bill in the last session of the late Congress, more than three fourth whose members belonged to the Republican party, is an illustration of their infidelity to their pledges and their neglect of their professions in relation to the great industrial and financial interest of the country.

7. That the Radical majority in Congress, and those who sustain them, have overthrown the Constitution, dismembered the Federal Union and subverted republican government by a long series of usurpations, among which are the following:

Their denial of the right of States of the Union to representation in Congress.

Their treatment of ten States as subjugated provinces, and governing them by military force in time of peace.

Their enactment of laws denying indemnity for arrests and false imprisonments made without authority of law.

Their resistance of the authority of the civil tribunals, and their overthrow by the substitution of military commissions for the trial of undefined offenses.

Their efforts to destroy the executive and judicial departments of the Government by threatened impeachment to control executive action, and a projected "remodelling" of the Supreme Court of the United States to force obedience to congressional mandates.

Their ejection from their seats in the Federal Senate and House, of members duly and legally chosen.

That the purpose of confiscation avowed by the Republican leaders, in violation of the Declaration of Rights and other guarantees of the Federal and State Constitutions, tending as it does, to destroy all protection to private property, advances them far on the high road to repudiation.

8. That a strict conformity, both by the Federal and State Governments, to all the powers, restrictions and guarantees, as contained in the Constitution of the United States, a rigid and wise economy in the administration of public affairs, and the election of capable, honest and patriotic men to office, are measures absolutely necessary to restore public confidence, avert national bankruptcy, and to ensure the perpetuity of our free institutions.

9. That the late Republican Legislature of this State has distinguished itself for the number of its unwise and unconstitutional enactments.

Some of these laws have already been judicially determined to be unconstitutional, others are unwise, inexpedient, oppresive and fanatical, and the members who sustained them should be condemned by the people at the polls.

10. That the power and success of the Democratic party greatly depends on the character and efficiency of its newspaper press, and that to give due force to its usefulness, this Convention earnestly request that in every county all the members of the Democratic party should make a vigorous effort to increase its circulation by giving it individual patronage and support.

11. That the Democracy of Pennsylvania, by their representatives now assembled, hereby tender their acknowledgments and thanks to the Hon. George W. Woodward in his retirement from the position of Chief Justice of this Commonwealth, for the pure, faithful and able manner in which he discharged the duties of that exalted position.

12. That the candidate we this day present to the people of Pennsylvania for a place on the Supreme Bench of the State, is in all respects worthy of the confidence and support of all who are in favor of an enlightened, faithful and impartial administration of the laws.

The report of the committee was adopted unanimously.

Visit of Foreign Ministers to Japan.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A special to the Herald from San Francisco says: The Colorado brings fifty first class passengers and a full cargo of freight.

Intelligence from Japan is of a highly interesting and important nature. The visit of Foreign ministers to Osaca concluded on the 20th of May, and those functionaries had returned to Yokohama. The treatment of the foreigners by the Tycoon at Osaca was princely. Houses had been prepared for them, filled with the costliest European furniture. French cooks and European servants were provided, wines and liquors were without stint, and in fact everything they wanted during their stay was furnished in abundance and free of expense. Each representative and suite was granted a private audience and dinner with the Tycoon several days before the official visit took place. On these occasions the Tycoon presided at the table, in a large, high room, wholly European in outfittings. The dinner was thoroughly French in detail. Small but valuable presents were laid beside each plate. The Tycoon is a man of ordinary stature, apparently thirty three years of age, with good features. He was very richly dressed, and his manner easy and refined. He thoroughly understands the European custom of drinking toasts, and drank the health of the President of the United States with a gusto. At the official visit, which was of short duration, everything was Japanese. After the usual common places, the Tycoon expressed to Minister Von Valkenburg his great gratification at the establishment of a new steamship line between America and Japan. Japanese Tommy acted as interpeter for the American legation thoroughout the visit. Subsequently the Tycoon met the Minister at Hiago, eleven miles across the Bay, and laid out a foreign settlement where a tract of ground a mile in width, extending three or four miles back from the water, has been appropriated under the same arrangement as in other ports of Japan. The anchorage is good. The settlement of Osaca is about the center of the town. All were highly pleased with Osaca.

In about a month the minister will visit the west coast to locate a port there. The place selected will probably be Psuranga, in the Province of Kanga.

SURRATT'S TRIAL.

A Jury Finally Obtained---The Trial to Commence on Monday.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Judge Wylie again presided in the Criminal Court. Judge Fisher is still ill.

Mr. Carrington submitted objections to further proceedings to-day, on the ground that this term ends on Monday next, and that the Judge who is obliged to hold the present term is sick and not present, and that another Judge, to wit: Judge Carter, is assigned to the next term of this Criminal Court, and that, as the commencement of the empanelling a jury was by Judge Fisher, it is submitted by the District Attorney to be illegal to proceed before Judge Wylie to complete the empanelling of the jury in this case.

The Court overruled the objection, and Mr. Carrington excepted to the ruling.

The examination of talesmen proceeded, and finally a full jury was presented as follows: Wm. B. Todd, J. R. Barr, Robert Berry, C. C. Chencider, James Y. Davis, Columbus Alexander, Wm. McLean, B. F. Morse, Benjamin Gilding, and Wm. Burtte.

The Court then adjourned to 10 o'clock to-night, to swear in the twelfth juror, the Judge agreeing to examine the law in the meantime to see if there were any legal objections to empanelling the jury.

The Court reassembled at 10 to-night The jurors were called and the twelfth juror sworn, Judge Wylie having stated he was clearly of the opinion the jury must be empanelled. After a long dispute between the lawyers on the question of discharging the jury till Monday, the indictment was read, and the prisoner plead not guilty. By request of prisoner's counsel, and consent of the Government, the jury was allowed to separate till Monday morning, with an admonition to avoid conversation with anybody on the subject of this case.

The Hungarian Coronation.

PESTH, June 8.—The Emperor and Empress of Austria were to-day crowned King and Queen of Hungary, with mediæval pomp and slendor. The city wos crowded with visitors from all parts of the world, and spendidly decorated ambassadors of all the nations having diplomatic relations with Austria, except the United States, were present. The coronation took place at Ofen, across the river Danube, and the concluding rites in this city. Eight thousand Hungarian and Austrian nobles, six hundred peers, one hundred diplomatists, and one thousand strangers witnessed the coronation. The scene was magnificent. The Bishops of the Catholic and Greek Church assisted at the ceremony, and the costumes displayed were gorgeous. The Emperor was annointed in ancient robes, the crown, mantle and shoes of St. Stephen, the first Christian King of Hungary. The Empress was annointed under right arm pit. The special Mass, sung by the Imperial Choir from Vienna, was composed by Listz. After the coronation, the King knighted several Hungarians, and rode in person to Pesth, where he took the oath, in which he promised to reconquer the ancient limits of Hungary. Nothing like this has been witnessed for centuries, and in all probability will never be repeated.

The coronation ceremonies closed by the King riding up to a mound of earth, formed of soil brought from the different departments of Hungary, and waving his sword at the four points of the compass, at the same time solemly swearing he would defend the kingdom against the world. There was immense cheering during the rites. There will be a grand illumination and banquet to-night. At the banquet peers will act as servants.

The Hungarian Diet voted 100,000 ducats as a present to the King and Queen. The greatest excitement and enthusiasm was displayed. Ten Arch Dukes were present. The Austrian Prime minister, Van Boust, was conspicuous. Mons. Deako was absent. M. Andrassy crowned the King and Queen.

A general amnesty for all political offences has been proclaimed.

☞From San Luis Potosi, Mexico, June 2d, it is reported that on the following day Maximilian, Majia Castillo might possibly be sentenced to be shot Maximilian offered to abdicate and use his influence to cause the immediate surrender of the City of Mexico and Vera Cruz. In return he asked the lives and conduct out of the country for himself, his German officers and troops, and Generals Mejia and Castillo. The proposals were rejected. The Emperor Maximilian and Majia were placed in seperate cells. Notice had been served upon the President of the court-martial, that Maximilian denied the jurisdiction of the court, on the grounds of internal law. I am a government, he says, recognized by every power in the world except the United States, and can only be tried by legal congress of the nations. What the result will be no one ventures to predict.

☞General Buford, one of the special commissioners to investivate the Fort Phil. Kearney massacre, after a full and very complete investigation, says there is no necessity for an Indian war, and there would be none if the Indians were protected from the rapacity and rascality of frontier settlers, whose interests are to bring on the war, and supply our armies with subsistence at exorbitant prices. In fact, the present war which is upon us is nothing but a raid upon the Treasury of the United States by the frontiersmen and army contractors. He says the employees of the Union Pacific Railroad are also advocates of war because the transportation of troops and passengers would put into the Treasury of the company large sums of money.

DESTRUCTION OF IDAHO CITY BY FIRE—On Friday, the 17th instant, Idaho City was again reduced to ashes. The fire originated on the corner of Wall and Montgomery streets, in the saloon of John Cody. It swept all the buildings down Main and High streets, from Bear Run to the foot of Main street. All west of Montgomery street were saved. Estimated loss of property, two million dollars. A private letter states that there was a report of several lives lost.

The Catholic church was burned also. Idaho City has been the victim of two very calamitous catastrophes, just about two years apart. Not less than foul million dollars have been destroyed in the fires of May 18, 1865 and May 17, 1867.—[Salt Lake Vedette, May 25.

☞The New York Herald's Rio Janeiro (South America) correspondence of May 7th, says the cholera was raging in the Brazilian camp on the River Platte, that nearly seven hundred men died in four days, and that two thousand troops had been dispatched to prevent the people from destroying the hospitals at Carrientas. This intelligence, however, is doubted, and believed to be a stock jobbing canard. It was reported that in Buenos Ayres the streets were filled with funerals, and the people dying on the piers, about door steps, and everywhere. Large crowds were rushing away, and every little hamlet in the interior was crowded with refugees.

☞A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, who has just returned from Alabama, says: "It was refreshing, as I passed along, to witness the many thousands of acres of corn well tilled, where the fleecy staple, 'King Cotton,' boro undisputed sway previous to the rebellion. Although backward, as crops everywhere are this season, still, the corn crop of the South will be ample to supply that destitute country for a year to come, should the balance of the season prove at all favorable. The productive prairies of Mississippi and Alabama are all under cultivation and what is still more gratifying, the freedmen are, as a general thing, working remarkably well."

A gentleman from Ellsworth, Kansas, reports that town completely inundated, the water being six feet deep. Several buildings were floated away and others moved from their foundations. A large amount of lumber passed away, also portions of buildings. The water was four feet above the railroad track.

Pen and Scissors.

Reports from the South indicate that the wheat crop will be very heavy in the South. Harvest has commenced in Georgia, Alabama and South Carolina.

On Sunday last, as a train of cars was approaching St. Hyacinthe, Canada, the engineer, Joseph Gaiepy, saw a child about four years old, walking upon the track. Being unable to stop the train, he rushed out on the cow-catcher and seized the child as the engine was about to strike it, and saved its life.

The President has said that he has never intended the removal of General Sheridan.—General Sheridan has written to Gen. Grant, stating that he fears he will be obliged to remove Throckmorton, and in reply Grant advises no action till the question before the Cabinet is decided.

A boy named Thomas Feeney, between 12 and 13 years of age, while playing base ball in Dover, Delaware, on Tuesday, was struck in the region of the heart by a ball and injured so badly that he died on Wednesday. This is another of the appalling results of this game, and we would again caution the "irrepressibles" here to desist.

It is gossiped in Paris that a widow of 45 summers married a young man aged 18. By her first husband she had a son, who, at the time of her second marriage, was 21. She recently died, and by her will left her fortune to her son and husband. As her husband was not of age, her son was appointed his guardian. The bereft husband is sure of a handsome maiden, if he is not too greedy for more old widow's fortunes.

An anecdote is related of a dog belonging to a gentleman in Staffordshire, England, who after being thoroughly whipped by the dog of the inn at St. Albans, where his master had left him, went back to his own home and returned with the great house dog; both fell upon the former victor and beat him most unmercifully, leaving him half dead. We have seen schoolboys, who have been well whipped, do the same thing as the dogs.

When registration is completed in South Carolina it is estimated that there will be about forty-five thousand white to sixty thousand colored voters; so that there will be nothing to prevent the negroes electing a black ticket against a white ticket should they think proper. In two congressional districts lying along the seaboard the negroes are also in the majority. In the Charleston district, which takes in several negro colonies, such as Beaufort, they are largely in the ascendant.

The Wheeling Register tells of a young man who for some weeks had been wasting away to a skeleton, owing to mysterious loss of blood. On awaking every morning, he found a fresh puncture on some part of his body, from which blood had been drawn.—He at length became convinced that a vampyre had been sucking his blood, and removed to another boarding-house. Since the removal he is recovering his health—for there were no bed bugs there!

Little "All Right," of the Japanese troupe of acrobats, fell forty feet in the Academy of Music, New York, on Wednesday night, and for a time was senseless. At 1 o'clock the next morning he had slightly recovered. The physicians state that his injuries were principally internal. He also suffered a terrible contusion on the right side of the head, but wonderful though it may seem, not a bone was fractured. The accident was caused by the trapeze giving way.

The United States Treasury on Saturday the 8th contained the largest amount of money ever held at any one time since the organization of the government, to wit: One hundred and eighty millions, of which one hundred and two millions were gold, and the balance currency. The amount was reduced to ten millions dollars on Monday by the maturing of the June compounds and interest, and on the 15th was reduced nine millions by the interest on the June Seven-thirties.

The man with the long beard, says the local of the Pittsburgh Gazette, was certainly in town in the person of one of the German delegates from Chicago. His beard is a monstrosity, a cause for grumbling at nature by smooth-faced masculines. It would prove worth a mint of money to a dealer of "stimulating onguent" for the growth of the whiskers. The gentleman is middle-aged, about six feet tall, and his beard, from face to end, measures the same length, is heavy and luxuriant. He had it plaited and still it reached far below his knees, and he had to walk daintily for fear of treading on its ends.

On Thursday evening, a lady of Troy, sitting in her room, was instantaneously oppressed with the conviction that her little son had fallen from the window in his sleeping apartment to the ground below. She repelled the thought as an impossibility. In a few moments more it flashed upon her mind with such force that she could not resist it. She hurried up to the bed-side of her son, and there, to her inteuse horror, she discovered the lad sleeping upon the window sill, the window open, his head projecting outside—he was on the very point of falling to the pavement below! Who can explain this phenomena which is unquestionably true?

It would seem from the following, that Russian America, lately ceded to the United States, is not such a barbarous region as some would have us believe: In 1858, there were nine Orthodox Greek Churches in that region. These churches numbered 12,000 parishioners. Five of the ordained ministry were natives of the country, of the mixed foreign and Indian descent. Religious books had been translated into the native tongues. Several schools were connected with the churches. The "Spiritual Seminary" had been lately removed from New Archangel to Yakootsk. Not one crime had been reported in their parishes for forty years. This is the information which comes from Russian statistical returns.

—The Chambersburg Repository publishes the following, which may be of interest to the lady members of the choir and to those in whom they are concerned: The leader of the Presbyterian choir at Newville has had considerable trouble to secure attendance of the members. The principal excuse was "company." Last week the said leader published the names of all the members in the Star, and in the same notice requested the public to cease visiting the said members on the evening of choir meeting. We have no doubt the desired effect will be reached.

SOLDIERS' HEIRS, ATTENTION!

The act of Congress approved March 2, 1867, gives to Heirs of Soldiers who died prisoners of war, for the time the soldier was so held a prisoner, at the rate of twenty-five cents per day, to be paid in the following order: 1st. To the widow, if unmarried; 2d. To the children; 3d. To the parents, to both jointly if they are living, if either is dead, to the survivor; 4th. To the brothers and sisters.

COMMUTATION FOR RATIONS,

The act of February 28, 1867, provides for the refunding of the $300 Commutation Money, where the same person was again drafted, and was required to enter the service or furnish a substitute.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS.

The act of March 2, 1867, also makes provisions for the payment of the

to such soldiers as have accidentally lost their discharges

All persons having any claims under any of the above mentioned Acts, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, can have them promptly collected, by addressing the undersigned. Information and advice cheerfully given to soldiers or their friends, free of charge.

Auditor's Notice—R. M. Speer.
New Store at Coffee Run—Joseph March & Bro.
Grand Festival on Wednesday evening next.
Henderson Township Bounty Fund.

Brief Items.

—A new paper mill is being built near McVeytown, Mifflin county.

—A M. E. camp meeting will be held in the Shirleysburg circuit, to commence the 20th of September.

A M. E. Camp Meeting will be held within the bounds of McVeytown Circuit, commencing August 16th next.

—A fresh cow and calf, belonging to Mr. Thomas McCahan, were killed on the Broad Top R. R. one day last week.

—Over one hundred petitions for liquor licenses were granted by the Cambria court. That county badly needs a moral power for temperance.

—Master Joe Irvin, son of Dr. Irvin, of Hollidaysburg, narrowly escaped drowning in the river, on Thursday. He was crossing a bridge and fell in.

—The borough improvements still continue. The ruts and holes in the streets are being filled up. Why can't the same be done to the roads near town. They need fixing up greatly.

—Messrs. G. W. Householder and J. H. Schell, of Bedford county, have purchased forty acres of land in Kansas city, Missouri, for the purpose of erecting an extensive paper mill.

—We learn that one shad was captured one day last week, in the mouth of the Raystown Branch, below town. We want to see and try one, when they get a little more plenty, if they ever do.

—We have noticed not a few intoxicated persons trying to walk our streets, during the past week. We would like to know what the new liquor law has got to do with such persons, if they are not to be arrested.

—We notice that many of our editorial friends at a distance are getting "muchly treated" with ice cream and other refreshments. Our ice cream dealers don't as yet quite understand the value of the "puffing" business.

—A vagrant named Frances Gray, confined in the Hollidaysburg jail, threw a lump of coal at jailor Baker, which struck him just below the eye, almost ruining an optic. She was taken to Pittsburg shortly after.

—The editor of the Cleveland Herald is offering five dollars in cash for 1858 cents. We are willing to purchase on similar terms. Those having cents to dispose of on these terms may apply —The "unfortunates" will be pleased to learn that A. A. Kelly, manager and proprietor of Kelly's Great North American Gift Concert scheme, was arrested in New York on the 12th inst., charged with swindling.

—Samuel Goodman, a brakeman, while engaged in coupling cars at Birmingham on Monday last, had his thumb mashed so badly as to require amputation, which operation was successfully performed by Dr. D. Miller.

—The Times is a little too complimentary, we think, in calling those customers burglars, who patronize two merchants at Dublin Mills. It must be excused, though, as it is a novel way of advertising, by a truly novel sheet.

—We learn that a fire occurred in Renovo, Clinton county, on Sunday morning, the 9th, about 3 o'clock, in which three dwellings to the rear of the residence of our former townsman Mr. John B. Givin, were totally destroyed. His house narrowly escaped.

—Mr. George Glazier has been appointed Street Commissioner by the Borough Council. Mr. G. has a good field of operations on which to expend his abilities, and we can rely on him to discharge his duties promptly and economically.

—Dr. DeWitt Ziegler was in town last week, and informed us that he is doing well in the tooth pulling business at Ebensburg. He is a sober and industrious young man, with not a little experience in the profession, and we hope to see him succeed.

—The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Director of the Mint, with a view of reducing the quantity of cents in circulation, and obtaining a supply of nickel in convenient form, to purchase the nickel cents, paying the nominal value in three and five cent pieces, which commenced June 10th.

—A stone fight between an overgrown darkey and a mischievous white boy, took place in the alley running through the Diamond near our office, on Tuesday evening last. Neither got hurt for their trouble, but it wouldn't have hurt either to have spent the night in jail for disturbing the peace, and endangering the lives of passers-by.

—The Altoonians may expect a good turn-out from Huntingdon, to witness the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument, on the Fourth. We have no doubt many of those who are going would say five dollars is too much to contribute to a Soldiers' Monument in Huntingdon, and yet they are very willing to pay that sum and more to "see them through" at Altoona. How is it?

Good Templars' Convention.

The Good Templars Convention, for this district, which met at Martinsburg, Blair county, on the 21st and 22d of May last, adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, The Order of Good Templars is organized for the special purpose of advancing the interests of Temperance in all legitimate ways, and the success of our cause requires the suppression of the liquor traffic by legal enactments, Therefore, Be it

Resolved, That we are contending with the greatest evil that now exists in our country, an evil that has for its support the long established customs of society, the selfishness and cupidity of large class of our citizens, and the insatiable appetites of the unhappy victims of Intemperance.

Resolved, That we deem it of the utmost importance that special efforts be made by all our Lodges to bring the subject of Total Abstinence to the attention of Sabbath School Superintendents and Teachers, and request them to co-operate with us in securing the pledges of the children under their charge to a life of total Abstinence.

Resolved, That as Good Templars and worthy citizens, as well as members of the several Lodges here represented, we pledge ourselves to labor for the suppression of Intemperance, manfully, wisely, and energetically, in any sphere in which God in his providence may appoint us to work.

Resolved That, this Convention recommend to all the Lodges in this district, total abstinence from all medicine commonly called "bitters," as the least hurtful, by chemical analysis, contains nine per cent. of Alcohol.

Resolved, That as Good Templars we will never cease our efforts to bring about such legislation as will sweep the monster iniquity from the land.

Resolved, That "Prohibition" shall be the motto of our banner.

Will Hens Pay Their Feed.

Barbara L. Hartzler, of Allenville, Mifflin county, commenced with twenty hens, March 1st, 1866, and experimented one year, to March 1st, 1867. The account stands as follows, with twenty hens on hand:

DR.
To 26 bus. oats, av. price, 47½ cts.	26 59½
To 15½ bus. corn at 65 cts.	10 07½
To 1 bus. screenings	40
To 2 bus. corn, chopped in ear	1 00
	$38 06½

CR.
By 196 doz. Eggs, at 23¼ pr. doz.	45 32½
By 35 consumed, at 23¼ pr. doz.	8 09⅜
By 84 chickens sold	30 89
By 15 chickens consumed	3 60
	$87 90⅜

The above we take from the Lewistown Gazette, and it certainly shows that henneries are profitable. We have had considerable experience in the business ourself, and although we have not kept account, we know it has been profitable, to say nothing of the pleasure of keeping them. Many of our citizens think likewise, and this spring has witnessed a large increase in the number of breeds, of the very best as well as inferior. Persons who raise chickens should give them proper attention, and they will pay.

A Festival.

A Festival is to be given at the Castilian Garden, to-morrow, Wednesday evening, for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to meet the expenses of the Methodist Church of this place, in the refitting and furnishing of the parsonage, &c. Strawberries, Ice Cream, Cakes, Confectionery, and other delicacies will be there in rich profusion, and no one should fail to partake of the treat. A piece of Firework, called the Tree of Liberty, has been purchased at no little expense especially for the occasion, and no one should begrudge the price of admission, 15 cents, to see that, and feast his or her eyes on the tables, and participate in the enjoyment. The Band will be in attendance. The Garden will be open from two o'clock in the afternoon until six, during which time no admission fee will be charged.

Fire in Dudley.

A fire occurred in Dudley, this county, on Friday morning last, about one o'clock. It originated in the tin shop of Mr. Raffley, and communicated to Michael McCabe's house, formerly used as a hotel, Matthew Dunn's grocery store, and two other buildings, all of which were burned to the ground, the town having no engine to extinguish the flames. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars. McCabe and Dunn were insured in the companies represented by R. A. Miller & Co., Insurance Agents of this place.

A Grand Treat.

We were agreeably surprised one day last week, on receiving several boxes of strawberries from our friend and former citizen, J. Simpson Africa, which were all the way from Fruitland, New Jersey. We ate them, (and who wouldn't,) and they were just as good as they looked, and we were led to envy the luscious surroundings of our friend in his new location. He informed us that he will get one hundred bushels of a crop this year, and we have no doubt the quantity will increase with years. Our distant friend will please accept our thanks for the delicious treat, and our best wishes for further success in the fruit business.

New Clothing Store.

Cunningham & Carmon, the enterprising merchants on Railroad street, have opened out a new one price Clothing Store, in the room formerly occupied by Wharton & Maguire. Persons in town, and our citizens generally, are invited to give them a share of patronage in their new line, as their long experience enables them to buy cheap and therefore to sell cheap. Go and try their fits.

Musical Concert.

On Thursday and Friday evenings, the 30th and 31st ult., the citizens of Alexandria and vicinity had a grand treat in the shape of a concert given by the children of the Presbyterian Sunday School, and others, under the leadership of Professor B. H. Everett.

The Professor is certainly an adept in training children to sing. In the short space of a few weeks he taught our children about twenty-five new tunes, which they sung most charmingly on both evenings above named. On the last evening especially a very large, intelligent, and appreciative audience filled the Presbyterian church; and, so far as we can learn, all were perfectly delighted with the performances. Prof. E. also taught a class of our young people in the science of vocal music to the entire satisfaction of his patrons.

Here permit us to say, one of the great evils of the present day is the neglect to cultivate talent for vocal music. Our young people are allowed for the most part to grow up in ignorance of the science of music. As a result the singing in the worship of God's house is handed over to a Committee (Choir) on the gallery. If the people join in at all, we usually have a jumble of discordant sounds that detracts from, rather than adds to the pleasure and profit of this important part of worship. Now, as we cannot pray by proxy, so we cannot sing by proxy.—What we mean is, that another cannot worship God for us. If, therefore, suitable persons were employed to train our children and young folks in vocal music, we would soon have a different state of things—have congregational singing, such as it would be both a pleasure and a profit to listen to, and engage in. But even as an everyday accomplishment, there is none of greater account than ability to sing correctly and well. Who is there with senses so obtuse as not to be charmed with good singing? But we must stop for the present, adding only that we will hold Professor Everett in grateful remembrance for the interest he has awakened among us on the subject of music, and for his services in teaching our young people vocal music; as also for the rich treat afforded us at the Concert above alluded to.—May success attend him wherever he goes. A FRIEND OF MUSIC.

[COMMUNICATED.]

HOPEWELL, BEDFORD CO., PA., June 3d, 1867.

Messrs. Editors:—It affords me much pleasure to say to you in relation to your inquiry in regard to the success of our experiment in making coke metal at this place, that it has been a perfect success, as far as demonstrating beyond the shadow of a doubt, that we have all the requisite material here for the successful manufacturing of pig metal with coke. The only difficulty we encountered was the want of sufficient blast—as it takes a much stronger blast to smelt iron with coke than charcoal. It appears to have been a mooted question up to this time as to whether the coal in the Broad Top coal region would make a coke suitable for the manufacture of pig metal. But now, I am happy to say, all doubts of that kind may be safely laid aside, and the position assumed, that we have a valley here, that in mineral wealth and natural advantages for the manufacturing of iron, is second to no other locality in our State, a fact that the capitalists of this great manufacturing State will not long remain ignorant of. The great mistake that was made in the early development of this region, was the fact overything else but coal lands were lost sight of, instead of the pioneers of this valley securing a proportionate amount of iron ore lands with their coal lands, which would have rendered them independent, in the event of a stagnation in the coal trade, having the facilities at home for the consumption of their raw material, which would enable them to ship the manufactured article to market and still be able to realize a handsome profit. I venture the prediction that within five years you will be surprised at the progress that will have been made in this valley. All that, in my opinion, appears to be necessary is the capital and enterprise to convert this entire valley into a busy scene of industry and prosperity.

Very truly yours,
JOHN F. LOWRY.

Attempted Murder.

An unknown man, badly bruised about the head, was found by the watchman near Black Log Station, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, on Tuesday evening last. He had evidently been left for dead, and concealed in the woods by those who attacked him; but he revived sufficiently to crawl out, where he was discovered. He is unable to speak, hence can give no information as to the perpetrators of the deed. He was seen in company with two other men near that place in the morning. He was brought to the Patterson House, and is receiving proper attention. His recovery is extremely doubtful.—Juniata Democrat.

In passing some fields of grain, a short distance from town, we noticed that they present a fine appearance, and promise an abundant harvest. The farmers are now engaged in hoeing their corn and potatoes, after which they will gather in their hay, which, judging from appearances, ought to be as low, comparatively, as flour is likely to be.

Huntingdon, May 9, 1866-tf

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

BEALE'S

Late Powell's Embrocation,

For all Diseases Incident to HORSES, CATTLE, and the HUMAN FLESH, Requiring the use of an External Application.

This new Compound, prepared by a practical Chemist, having a full knowledge of all the medical virtues of each ingredient that enters into its composition, is warranted to exceed anything of the kind ever yet offered to the Public as an external application for the diseases for which is is recommended. We are satisfied that it will work its own road into the confidence of all who use it, and those who try it once will never be without it, and therefore we rely on experience as the best test of its usefulness. It is pronounced by Farriers, and all who have tried it to be the best application ever used. This Embrocation has been put up for over eight years, and it is only through the increasing demand and urgent request of my friends and the Public that I send it forth as the grand remedial agent for the various diseases to which that noble and useful animal, the horse, is subject.

Many remedies have been offered to the Public under different forms, some of these are injurious, others at best of little use, and many wholly improper to answer the purposes for which they are recommended.

A judicious and really useful composition, free from these objections, has therefore long been desired by many gentlemen who have valuable horses, and are unwilling to trust them to the care of designing and pretended Farriers. Their wishes are at length fully gratified, by Dr. Beale being prevailed upon to allow this valuable Embrocation (which has proved so efficacious to the various diseases) to be prepared and brought out to the public.

This Embrocation was extensively used by the Government during the war.

Address all Orders to Dr. EDMUND BEALE,
602 South Second Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

For sale at Lewis' Book Store, and by Store keepers generally. may 1, '67-6m.

LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent

Duplex Elliptic

or Double Spring,

SKIRT.

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, opera, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with cable and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition be particular to notice that skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: 'J. W. Bradley's Duplex-Elliptic Steel Springs' upon the waist band—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop, will admit a pin being passed through the centre, thus unreeling the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other spring.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent.

MEDICAL ELECTRICITY

BY

DR. WILLIAM BREWSTER,

M'CONNELLSTOWN, PA.

For the benefit of those proposing to undertake Electrical treatment for diseases we give in the following list a few of the more prominent and most common complaints met with in our practice, in all of which we are most successful. In NEARLY ALL CASES OF CHRONIC DISEASE, ELECTRICITY IS A SURE REMEDY, AND IN ALL CASES BENEFICIAL, IF PROPERLY APPLIED. Those, therefore, afflicted with complaints not here enumerated, need have no hesitation in applying, and whether only RELIEF, or a PERMANENT CURE can be effected, they will receive replies accordingly. All communications free.

1 Epilepsy, Chorea, St. Vitus' Dance, Paralysis, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Nervousness, Palpitation of the Heart, Lock-Jaw, etc.
2 Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Obstinate Constipation, Hemorrhoids, or Piles, Bilious, Flatulent, and Painter's Colic, and all affections of the Liver and Spleen.
3 Catarrh, Cough, Influenza, Asthma, (where not caused by organic disease of the heart,) Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Rheumatism of the Chest, Consumption in the early stages.
4 Gravel, Diabetis, and Kidney Complaints.
5 Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Stiff Neck, Spinal Diseases, Hip Diseases, Cancers, Tumors; (those last named always cured without pain, or cutting, or plasters in any form)

In a word, we propose to cure all curable diseases.

We have no connection whatever with any other Electrical office in this or any other county. All letters address to

PROF. J. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all these complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficiency. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My Liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore appliable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use.

J. H. McENTYRE,
Proprietor, Reading, Pa.

For sale at Lewis' Book Store.

PHOTOGRAPH

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE

PATENT APPLIED FOR.

Hitherto there has been nothing introduced in way of a Marriage Certificate that has excited any interest or attraction; but the originators of the PHOTOGRAPH MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE claim that they have gotten up something that will be most heartily welcomed by all persons now married and all those who contemplate marriage.

Size and Plan of the Marriage Certificate.

The size of the Certificate is 19 by 14 inches. It contains a beautiful figure representing the union of two hearts. Above the figure is written in beautifully ornamented German Text the words "Photograph Marriage Certificate." There are three spaces in the figure: on the space in the center the Certificate proper is written. The words, "two hearts in one" form an arch over the Certificate proper, and immediately under the arch there is a beautiful figure representing the joining of hands, and where the centre space comes to a point there is a picture of two beautiful turtle doves. On the space to the left there is a place for the photograph of the gentleman and under it we have the words, "To the Husband," in ornamental text, under which we have selections of Scripture passages addressed to the husband. On the left side of the engraving we have a place for the Photograph of the wife. Immediately under which we have the words, "To the Wife," in ornamental text, under which are appropriate passages of Scripture addressed to the wife. Over the space for the photograph of gentleman we have written in Old English characters, the following appropriate passage of Scripture: "It is not good that the man should be alone," and over the space for the photograph of the lady, we have the corresponding words: "I will make him an help meet for him." At the lower extension of the figure of the hearts, we have the hearts bound together or encircled in part by these words: "What therefore God hath joined together let no man put asunder." The Certificate is so constructed that card photographs of both bride and bridegroom can be inserted without the least possible difficulty. Indeed everything connected with it is so elegant, attractive and desirable that many single persons seeing the Certificate have been so much pleased with its appearance, that they purchased on sight one of these beautiful parlor ornaments.

A specimen copy of the Photograph Marriage Certificate will be carefully put up and sent by mail free, on receipt of the retail price, which is ONE DOLLAR.

ELECTRIC HAIR RENEWER,

Is pronounced by all who have used it the very best preparation for the Hair. It is a positive cure for Baldness, eradicates Dandruff and Humors, stops the hair from falling out, and speedily restores Gray Locks to their original hue and luxuriance.

It operates on the secretions and fills the glands with new life and coloring matter. Thin, dead, faded or gray hair will always be brought back by a few applications, to its youthful abundance, vitality and color.

It makes the hair soft, glossy, fragrant, pleasant to the touch and easy to arrange. Dry, wiry and intractable locks become moist, pliant and disposed to remain in any desired position. As a Hair Dressing it has no equal.—The sales are enormous and it is a universal favorite with old and young of both sexes.
